What gets you out of bed in the morning, apart from the alarm clock?

We all need something that motivates us – something we look forward to. Something to live for.

Hope is a precious commodity. It lifts our spirits. It helps us through hard times. And it fills every moment with potential and anticipation.

Perhaps you have lots to look forward to, and count your blessings daily. A rewarding job that brings the best out of you. A wife or husband you love dearly. Children and grandchildren who bring you delight. Friends you can trust and enjoy life with.

Or maybe times are tough. Relationships have broken down. Money is tight. Parenting is really hard work. You're stuck in a job you don't enjoy. Friends let you down. Illness and depression make life a struggle.

Where do you turn when things aren't going well?

For Christians, the death and resurrection of Jesus are the foundation of our faith – and our hope is perfectly expressed in the Easter story.

If hope is just what you need right now, we'd love to welcome you to our Easter celebrations. It could be the beginning of a whole new life.
